to the firm at least the original purchase price and all other expenditures along with 6 per cent interest from the date of the acquisition.

The order quoted statements from National Investors officials that expenditure for the development of the land would have taken away almost all of the probable and eligible assets of the company, about $20 million.

Maumelle formerly was a munitions plant and plans were to develop it as an industrial park.

The department also found that about 300 acres of land owned by the company on Lake Hamilton near Hot Springs was an ineligible investment along with some land located on Interstate 30 west in Pulaski County. National Investors was ordered to sell the land at the best obtainable price by next June 1 and to deposit this and any profits on the sale into the company treasury.

Harkey also said stock owned by the firm in the First State Bank of Crossett was acquired without prior written approval of the insurance commissioner. He said this should be disposed of by June 1 with the money received going into the company treasury.

He also said the bank was a subsidiary of the company and therefore officers or directors of the firm could not borrow money from the bank. He said any loans owed by officials should be paid in full before Oct. 1.

National Investors was ordered to cease the practice of investing in non-insurance company affiliates and in insurance company affiliates. Harkey's order said the firm had investments in such affiliates that totaled about $3.10 million but produced a combined total of dividend earnings of $354.79 over a four-year period.

Harkey said he found "the practice of investing in stocks of affiliates is not only undesirable but in these instances resulted in violations" of insurance laws.

Harkey said the disposition of stock in insurance company affiliates would be determined later but ordered the firm to dispose of all its stock in non-insurance company affiliates beginning no later than Sept. 1 and completing this by Sept. 1, 1972.

Harkey said the report, prepared by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Zone Five examiners, showed two violations that had been corrected when discovered by the Insurance Department.

He said one was the company's board of directors permitting Michael Odum, Dean Files, Edward Barry and Dr. Frank Kumpuris to sell the company their personally owned stock in affiliated firms at a time when they individuals were officers or directors of National Investors.

Another violation that was corrected, Harkey said, was the board having allowed the firm to buy stock in National Investors Fire and Casualty Co. from Jess P. Odum and Gerald Patten and corporations controlled by them. Harkey said the fire and casualty insurance firm had no true market value.

Harkey said the stock was sold to the company for $621,000, representing a profit over and above the book value of $414,000.

The zone examination report "discloses numerous instances of violations of the Arkansas Insurance Code by the company and its officers and directors, many of which involve self-dealing in violation" of Arkansas law, Harkey said in the order.

Charge OEO Financing Riots Denied

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — While a Republican senator asks whether the Office of Economic Opportunity is "subsidizing riots" with federal funds, the anti-poverty agency is moving to investigate a Nashville, Tenn., summer school accused of teaching Negro children to hate white people.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said he accepts testimony of Nashville Police Capt. John A. Sorace that anti-poverty funds are involved in financing of the school.

The OEO denied any of its funds had gone to the school—but it acknowledged a contract had been signed between the school and the Nashville agency administering anti-poverty programs there.

Sorace insisted his information is accurate, but he told the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday it came from a police informant who could not be publicly identified.

Sorace said OEO funds are being funneled into a summer school directed by Fred Brooks, Nashville chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. He charged leaders of that organization incited racial violence in Nashville last April.

The OEO, quickly denied Brooks is on the payroll, saying his name had been submitted but not approved. In Nashville, Brooks, 20, said whether the school teaches hatred of whites "all depends on your interpretation."

He told a newsman: "We teach the historical fact that whites came to Africa and viciously enslaved many of the great African people. If the history of the Negroes' past leads them to hate white people, that's not our responsibility."

He said no white man would be allowed to sit in on the classes.

But OEO said the contract between St. Anselms Episcopal chapel and Nashville's Metropolitan Action Commission prohibited segregation of classes.

Sorace's charge could pose a new peril for President Johnson's $2-billion poverty-fighting bill, now awaiting Senate committee action.

Trouble already looms in both the Senate and the House for the Johnson anti-poverty program. OEO Director Sargent Shriver already has come to Capitol Hill to deny charges that anti-poverty workers were involved in rioting in Newark N.J.

Four Members of Arkansas Family Killed

LYNDON, Ill. (AP) — Four members of a Locust Grove, Ark., family have died as a result of a two-vehicle crash Thursday morning. Five other persons were injured.

Authorities said Billie Jo Watson, 9, died Thursday night as a result of injuries received in the accident. Karen Watson, 15, and her sisters, Charlotte, 5, and Kori Ann, 7, were killed in the crash.

Officers said the accident occurred when a station wagon skidded into a pickup truck. The victims were all children of William Watson, 48, the driver of the station wagon.

Watson, his wife, and another daughter, Kathryn 20, were injured. Watson was treated and released. Leo Cudgell, 40, and his father, John Cudgell, 72, both of Lyndon, were also injured. They were in the truck. Watson, a retired Army sergeant who works at Batesville, Ark., was taking his family to Hanover, Ill., for a visit with his parents.

without the tax boost, and tighter reins on spending, Miller added.

"His concern that such a deficit would cause inflation and high interest rates should have been shown a year and a half ago when he told the American people that we could afford to fight the war in Vietnam and increase the pace of Great Society domestic programs at the same time."

"I am becoming particularly disturbed by the Johnson administration's policy of blaming every economic ill in this country on the war in Vietnam," said Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, a member of the Senate Finance Committee.

Johnson specified the surcharge would not apply across the board—some 16 million persons in the lowest taxpaying brackets would be exempt.

Thus a single person making no more than $1,900, a couple up to $3,600 or a family with two children up to $5,000 would have no surtax to pay.

But a $10,000 income typically would bear $174 more in taxes for a single person, $134 for a childless couple, $111 for a family of four. At $20,000 the increases would be $492, $348 and $316. All these figures assume standard deductions.

Secret Police Head Dominated Stalin's Life

By RODNEY PINDER

LONDON (AP) — Joseph Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva, claims in her memoirs that Lavrenty P. Beria, Soviet Secret police chief, dominated her father for the last 20 years of his life.

Mrs. Alliluyeva claims that Beria became the dominating influence over her father after he was rocked by her mother's suicide in 1932 and maintained that influence until the dictator died in his country home outside Moscow in 1953.

Beria, "always repulsive," brooded over Stalin at the end, posing as "the most loyal, the most faithful," while the aged dictator died in agony after a cerebral hemorrhage, Mrs. Alliluyeva writes.

Hutchinson & Co., Mrs. Alliluyeva's authorized British publisher, issued a Russian-language edition of her memoirs, "Twenty Letters to a Friend," on Thursday. The English-language edition is to appear in October.

The day after Stalin's death, his daughter writes, Beria summarily dismissed and exiled aides and members of the household staff, but not before some of them committed suicide in the hysteria following the death.

Beria was jailed on treason charges by Stalin's successors and put to death nine months after the dictator's death. Nikita S. Khrushchev, in the recent NBC television program "Khrushchev in Exile," also blamed Beria for Stalin's misdeeds.

The book largely sidesteps politics and concentrates on the writer's life with her father.

Mrs. Alliluyeva said her father believed there was a doctors' plot against him and permitted no physicians in his home for several months before he died. He took pills and iodide occasionally, she wrote, and the day before his fatal stroke took a steam bath, which the author said a doctor would never have permitted.

When the end approached, she said, frantic efforts were made to save the old man. Leeches were put to his head and neck and he was given cardiograms, X rays and continuous injections.

Methodists to Present Winfield Group

By special arrangement with the director, Rev. James Scudder, The First Methodist Church will present the Winfield Players in their production "For Heaven's Sake!" Monday night, August 7 at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church.

The Winfield Players is a drama group from Winfield Methodist Church in Little Rock, who have been performing for audiences across the state for several years. Among other plays they have presented are "J.B.," "The Miracle Worker" and "The Shepherd," all of which have won wide acclaim.

"For Heaven's Sake!" is a Broadway-style musical revue in two acts, which is a series of songs, sketches, and connecting material which communicate the meaning of the Gospel in most contemporary terms. It was first presented at the North American Ecumenical Youth Assembly at Ann Arbor, Michigan and earned a standing ten-minute ovation. It has subsequently been produced in New York City and has been recorded and televised. Reviewed in the Christian Century and featured in the Saturday Evening Post, it has been acclaimed by both the clergy and laity.

The public is invited to attend. No tickets will be sold. A free will offering will be taken.

Insurance Dept. Protects Public First

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Some insurance companies, particularly those in the field of accident and health coverage, have been able to exist in Arkansas only by writing substandard risk policies on which they had no intention of paying, state Insurance Commissioner John Norman Harkey told a civic club here Thursday.

Harkey said his department was trying now to protect the public, although in years past there seemed to have been a feeling that "the Insurance Department was out there to help promote insurance companies."

Harkey said the department was giving substandard companies an opportunity to surrender their certificates of authority, and "a lot of them are doing it."

"Others we have had to cancel, and we may have to cancel more until we get the message across to them that we want them to act in the public interest," Harkey said.

Harkey said his department had a staff of 35 persons to regulate about 1,000 companies and 14,000 agents.

Questions Value of Tax on Income

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said in a taped interview television here Thursday night that he questioned the value of the 10 per cent surcharge on federal income tax proposed by President Johnson.

"It would be unwise to enact a tax increase if, under the higher rates of tax, we didn't develop higher revenues," Mills told KATV newsman Jim Pitcock in an interview taped three weeks ago in Washington. "In other words, can the economy stand a higher rate of taxation without being depressed in the process?"

"Certainly I wouldn't want to undertake any legislative (tax) programs until we had more concrete evidence as to what the rate of (national) spending would be for the year 1968," Mills said.

Johnson proposed the tax as a method of financing the Vietnam War.

Tax Pinch by October 1 Is Possible

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Congress enacts President Johnson's tax program, Americans will begin feeling the pinch of higher taxes with their first paychecks after Oct. 1.

Although new tax tables have yet to be drafted, Treasury Department officials say the average taxpayer can expect his withholding to increase by 10 per cent to reflect the proposed boost.

Congress, however, must make the final decision on any tax increase and its effective date.

But if the program recommended by Johnson is adopted, a worker who has $40 deducted from his paycheck for federal income taxes every two weeks can expect Uncle Sam to take $44, for example.

Johnson said for most Americans the surcharge should range from a few cents to about $9 extra a month.

About 16 million taxpayers in the lowest brackets would be exempt.

A surcharge actually is a tax on a tax. It's levied not on a person's basic salary but on the tax he pays.

If, for example, a person would pay $800 in taxes this year under present rates, his extra taxes for a full year under the surcharge would be $80. But since the surcharge wouldn't take effect until Oct. 1, he would pay for only one-fourth a year — or $20 — for 1967.

The same result as a 10 per cent surcharge could be obtained if basic tax rates are hiked 10 per cent. But officials said the temporary nature of the proposal then would be lost and it would be harder to administer.

A tax rate of 19 per cent, for example, would translate to 20.9 per cent under a 10 per cent basic rate change.

Many State Governors Not Native

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, conducting another of his "non-political" regional tours, told some 200 persons here Thursday night that he wasn't the only Arkansas governor born outside the state.

He said 25 of the state's 36 governors weren't natives.

And furthermore, he said, 85 per cent of Arkansas college-level teachers aren't natives.

"On the other hand," he added, "Lynn Davis is a native of Arkansas."

Davis, appointed by Rockefeller as State Police director, came to the job from Anaheim, Calif., where he was stationed about six years with the FBI. The legality of his appointment has been challenged on grounds that Arkansas law requires 10 years of continuous residence in the state immediately prior to appointment as a qualification for the position.

Rockefeller also told the crowd that as his plane circled the Memphis airport Thursday afternoon, unable to put down because of a landing gear failure, his crew members cut a panel out of the plane with a can opener and cranked the landing gear down by hand.

The governor was to meet newsmen at 10 a.m. today, and had scheduled visits with private citizens at the St. Francis County courthouse for most of the remainder of the day.

Libya Wants the U.S. Base Closed

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Libyan officials are reported determined to have the United States close its Wheelus Air Base in Libya as soon as possible as they prepare to open negotiations with a U.S. delegation in Tripoli next Thursday.

The Libyans began talks in Benghazi Tuesday with the British over the liquidation of Britain's El Adem Airbase near Tobruk and evacuation of British troops in Libya.

Would Leave Teacher Pay Formula Alone

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Consideration of a new formula for distributing state funds to schools under the Minimum Foundation Aid Program should be postponed until the 1969 legislature convenes, three state Education Department officials told Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller Thursday.

Commissioner A. W. Ford and Associate Commissioners Joe L. Hudson and Harvey Snell said it would be "wholly impractical" to attempt to revise the formula in the special session Rockefeller is expected to call in January 1968.

They added, however, that a new formula should be prepared by September 1968 for consideration by the 1969 legislature.

The 1967 legislature departed from precedent and approved a bill designed to give each of the state's teachers a flat $500-a-year salary increase during each year of the 1967-69 biennium.

LBJ Raps Romney Indirectly

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has indirectly but firmly rebuffed Michigan Gov. George Romney's charge that the White House played politics in the dispatch of troops to quell the rioting in Detroit.

Breaking his public silence Thursday, Johnson outlined to newsmen the constitutional requirements he said were necessary before the President could dispatch troops. Then he gave a chronological account of events July 24.

The chief executive himself never mentioned the subject of political maneuvering but after his own comments he introduced Cyrus Vance, White House representative in Detroit, who adamantly denied politics was involved in the handling of the affair.

After the news conference by Johnson, Vance and Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton, troop commander in Detroit, White House press secretary George Christian said: "This ends it, as far as we are concerned."

The White House then distributed to newsmen "for your information and background" copies of Romney's telegram requesting troops, the reply, constitutional provisions on the subject, and a summary of past incidents when troops were dispatched by a President.

At a news conference Monday, Johnson refused to comment on the controversy, saying nothing would be gained by "trying to justify or explain."

But Thursday, the President went into history to explain his reluctance to send the troops and the reason for his language in finally announcing his decision.

The announcement laid repeated stress on existence of a situation out of local and state control.

las gave higher raises to teachers in smaller school districts than those given to teachers in large districts. This was intended to equalize salaries paid in the different sized districts.

Snell said recently that he thought most school administrators were about ready to go back to the formula basis of aid distribution.

He and the other two officials said Thursday, however, that they thought it would be impractical to repeal the current act before 1969 because school districts already have advertised their budgets and a proposed school tax rate, and because teachers already have been promised their $500 raises.

Orders Hairnets for the Hippies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Hairnets for long-dressed male waiters in the hippie Haigh-Ashbury district were ordered Thursday as a sanitary precaution by the city Health Department.

Present law makes only specific references to female restaurant employees, said Public Health Director Ellis D. Sox, but the present situation presents a problem the legislature didn't count on.

"Any person with long hair is likely to get some of the strands in food," Sox said. "We will require nets or some other confining method irrespective of the sex of the individual."

Black Muslim Ties Probed

LONDON (AP) — American FBI agents and Scotland Yard detectives are trying to discover if there are links between Black Muslim leaders in the United States and in Britain, police sources report.

They said members of the two agencies met Thursday at the U.S. Embassy to discuss the international activities of Muhammad al-Faruqi—known as Michael X—leader of Britain's Black Muslims.

De Freitas appeared with militant American Negro leader Stokely Carmichael during his recent British visit. Home Secretary Roy Jenkins later announced that Carmichael would not be allowed to re-enter Britain.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Network television executives sometimes seem to be better at creating monsters than the special effects departments of film studios.

Movies shown on television once were old, dark, second-rate and mostly relegated to late night spots. Today all networks are buying contemporary, top-grade features which are the toughest competition to the quickie programs knocked out for television use.

The cast and crew of a new series have been deep in gloom this week after a rumor reached them that on the night of their vital premier show that establishes the premise for the whole series a rival network will show the Beatles in "A Hard Day's Night," a sure-fire audience grabber.

The current custom of mass launchings of new season shows is another nightmare. At one time each network picked its week for its premieres, and the process took 21 days, starting in mid-September.

It is now believed that there is an advantage in getting on the screen fastest with the mostest, so the action starts furiously the day after Labor Day—although audiences can only watch one show on one network at a time.

But everyone remembers that one year when ABC got in ahead of the competition with its premieres, it had one of its most successful seasons.

Opening gun of the new season will be shot Tuesday, Sept. 5, the start of seven days in which ABC and CBS take the plunge. NBC's premiere week is set for the following week, but since competition and counter-programming are the bases for the ratings war, the network may have a few last-minute surprises.

There are, by comparison with last season, surprisingly few collisions of opening nights. CBS's situation comedy about a disc jockey, "Good Morning World," on Sept. 5, will fight for the first night audience with ABC's "N.Y.P.D.," a police-action story that Hollywood cynics already have labeled "Dragnet East."

"The Flying Nun," a fantasy-comedy on ABC on Thursdays, will make its debut on Sept. 7—in the middle half hour of CBS's 90-minute "Cimarron Strip," a big economy-size Western.

Friday, Sept. 8 will see another contest between a situation comedy and a Western-CBS's "Accidental Family," with Jerry Van Dyke cast as a night club entertainer with children problems, versus ABC's "The Guns of Will Sonnet," which has Walter Brennan playing an old man who, with his grandson, is hunting for a long-lost son.

The rest of the 25 new shows have pretty clear sailing for their premieres.

NBC, with the "Miss America Pageant" for two hours of Sept. 9, will precede that annual, popular show with a variety special starring the comedy team of Rowan and Martin.

"Africa," the four-hour news treatment that cost millions to make and a year to pull together, will be ABC's blockbuster for Sunday, Sept. 10—a night that also will feature the two-hour pilot film of "High Chaparral," NBC's new Western which thereafter will follow "Bonanza."

The favorite game at Hollywood parties is doping the outcome of the new season's rating race. This is done by looking at the post position of each new and old show and considering the past track record of people concerned.

For instance, NBC's "Mothers-in-law" is not rated a very good chance because it is tucked into an awkward half hour that coincides with the second half of both CBS's Ed Sullivan Show and ABC's "The FBI," both popular. CBS's "Good Morning World" is rated a good chance because assorted alumnae of "The Dick Van Dyke Show," including Carl Reiner, are connected with it. And, of course, everybody is looking for another Dick Van Dyke.

Bit by a Lion, Gets $6,726
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Shirley Helm has been awarded $6,726 damages because she was bitten by a 4-year-old lion in 1962.

Miss Helm, a television actress, was filming a show with singer Vic Damone when she was bitten on the right shoulder.

Miss Helm sought $25,000 from the National Broadcasting Co. and Ralph Helfer, owner of the lion which appears occasionally on television shows.

A Superior Court jury awarded the damages Thursday.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

DO PARENTS SHIRK OBLIGATIONS TO SONS? Dear Helen: I wholeheartedly support the feelings of "FOR RESTRAINT IN BOTH SEXES." I think one of the biggest problems we confront is that too many foolish parents assume this "double standard" is an unchangeable part of the American way. Therefore they hesitate to teach their sons restraint in sex for fear they will be considered "different," and unacceptable in modern life.

My sons will be taught, as my daughters are, that love and marriage go together and casual dalliance is not only wrong but foolishly dangerous.

I'll bet many parents will join me in wishing to eradicate the "double standard" myth. Equal restraint is not all that "square."

Dear A: I wish an end to the double standard might work the way you hope—but it may not turn out that way. Unlike you, many parents have caved in. Before the so-called sex revolution, fathers winked at their sons' escapades, while swearing they'd kill any boy who sweet-talked their daughters. Nowadays they close their eyes, keep quiet for fear of sounding square, and pretend what they don't know about hasn't happened—or anyway hope she won't get pregnant.

Both attitudes are foolish, but at least, back then, the girl had the support of her parents and society. With the push for "equality" and less control, she and the boy must make their own rules, and often "restraint" isn't one of them.

On the other hand, you'd be surprised how many young people—both boys and girls—tell me they're waiting for marriage, and proud of it. All is not yet lost!

Dear Helen: Every time we have a fight, my husband walks out and stays away for two or three days. Then he comes home and we pretend nothing has happened. If I ask him where he's been, he says, "cooling off." I try to tell him walking out on an argument never settles it and just causes resentment that starts the next one. How can I make him

Dear Left: People who can't face a fight usually have some deep-seated syndrome. Discuss this "runaway syndrome" with your husband during a peaceful time, and try to understand, not blame. Maybe you'll both get to the bottom of it and find a cure.

Another suggestion: do your darndest to head off arguments. —H.

Dear Helen: My daughter is marrying for the second time, after she had been widowed for two years. She wants to invite her mother-in-law by her first marriage to the wedding. That will be one too many mothers and I'm very much opposed. How will her new mother-in-law feel? —Mother

Dear Mother: How the first mother-in-law will feel is more important. If she and your daughter are good friends and she approves of the wedding, then it would be thoughtless not to invite her. But she should have the right of refusal—without hurt feelings—if the affair threatens to bring back painful memories. —H.

Dear Helen: Is anyone else as tired as I am of the unfailing rule in modern literature—boy plus girl equals an affair? It seems that writers assume there are no virgins left, except old maid aunts and candidates for the headshrinker's couch. How can we teach our children the right values when virginity is sneered at in almost everything they see and read?—FIGHTING A LOSING BATTLE

Dear FLB: Teach them to "read with argument," and point out that what sells best is not always a true reflection of life. If these episodes were as commonplace as modern writers imply, who'd bother to read about it?—H.

Ingrid Bergman Back in U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman returned late Thursday from Paris to begin rehearsals for a play that will end her 21-year-old absence from the American stage.

Miss Bergman is to appear in "More Stately Mansions," by Eugene O'Neill, Sept. 12 in the New Ahmanson Theater in the Los Angeles Music Center.

LONDON (AP) — Notes from swinging London. The gambling casino is still advertised as George Raft's Colony, even though its onetime host is barred from Britain as undesirable. The Beverly Hillbillies are filming background shots all around London town. Another arrival is Red Skelton, here for segments with a symphony orchestra playing his compositions.

American tourists, accustomed to free movies on cross-country flights, are jolted by the $2.50 charge across the Atlantic. Seen in the Hotel Dorchester lobby: Sean Connery with long hair for a Western he plans to film in Mexico. Ray Milland arrived to direct an English movie.

Deborah Kerr recovered from an ear ailment and rejoined the cast of "Prudence and the Pill." Rare theater experience: watching Sir Ralph Richardson romp through "The Rivals" at the Haymarket. Isobel Jeans has replaced Margaret Rutherford in the play—the Academy Award winner became unable to remember the malapropos.

Spotted in a cozy corner of L'Etoile restaurant: Hayley Mills and her 53-year-old director-boyfriend, Roy Boulting. "Fiddler on the Roof" is a big hit at Her Majesty's theater, and some say Israeli comic Topol is the best to play the leading role yet.

Their associates suspect the Beatles will never get together on another movie. The Monkees have made a dent in England, but mostly with the subteen set. Explicit sign on a movie stage: "You must enter the stage quietly—do not let the door bang." Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap" is being advertised in its "15th unashamed year" at the Ambassadors Theater.

50,000 Miles to get Degrees
SHIPPENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Charles L. Miller of Anchorage, Alaska, does not have a part-time graduate school and he couldn't go full time.

So he and his wife travelled 50,000 miles during the past five years to get masters degrees; from Shippensburg, Pa. State College.

"It's nice to have it all over, and have our goal completed," said Miller, who along with his wife, Ruth, will get masters degrees in elementary education tonight. "It's been a long time."

The Millers would travel about 5,000 miles here each summer to attend classes. They are elementary school teachers the other part of the year.

Exhibition Football to Open Tonight

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The College All-Stars and the New York Jets open pro football's first big exhibition weekend of 1967 tonight with the same old worries—knocking Bart Starr off his feet and keeping Joe Namath on his.

The All-Stars start and end their season in Chicago against the world champion Green Bay Packers, who will be playing for the first time in 10 years without Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung. But Starr is back, and he is what bugs the All-Stars.

The Packers quarterback, the National Football League's most valuable player last year, threw two touchdown passes in the 1966 charity game at Soldier's Field, leading the Packers to a 36-0 victory.

New York, on the other hand, has its annual job of protecting Namath. His golden-armed, tinkered quarterback, Namath will be testing for the first time in a game his right knee, which was operated on last December, and his left knee, in which he strained a tendon 10 days ago.

The All-Stars will send a front four of Bubba Smith of Michigan State, Pete Duranko and Alan Page of Notre Dame and Carol Stith of Nebraska after Starr. If they don't get him, maybe linebackers George Webster of Michigan State, Jim Lynch of Notre Dame and Paul Naumoff of Tennessee can get to him.

If Starr has time to throw, the inexperienced All-Star defensive backs stand little chance against Green Bay receivers.

Starr also can turn to running backs Elijah Pitts and Donny Anderson, who replace Taylor and Hornung. Hornung left in the expansion draft and Taylor played out his option and signed with New Orleans. Hornung has

13 Medalists Picked for Expo Meet

WINNIPEG (AP) — Thirteen gold medalists so far at the Pan-American Games have been selected to compete for the Americas team against the best of Europe in the Expo 67 track and field meet in Montreal Aug. 9-10.

The 13 are among 41 athletes named Thursday by an eight-member selection committee. The rest of the Americas team, totalling between 70 and 80, will be named following the Pan-Am Games final event Aug. 5.

Sponsored by the Canadian Corporation for the World Exhibition 1967 and conducted under the rules and regulations of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, the two-day match will consist of 20 male and 11 female events along with four invitation races.

The Pats, who finished second in the American League's Eastern Division in 1966, normally have a fine defense, but Namath took it apart 38-28 last Dec. 17 in a game that cost Boston the division title.

All Stars, Packers Play Tonight

By JOE MOOSHIL
CHICAGO (AP) — One of the most talented College All-Star squads in history takes on the Green Bay Packers tonight in the 34th annual midsummer football classic.

The Packers, champions of all professional football, have been installed two-touchdown favorites in the Soldier Field showdown which will be televised nationally.

An expected crowd of more than 60,000 will watch the Packers operate for the first time in years without the services of Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, their great running backs.

Hornung has retired, and Taylor played out his option and is now a member of the New Orleans Saints. They'll be replaced by Elijah Pitts and Donny Anderson while steady Bart Starr will be directing the team from the vital quarterback slot.

The Packers, who captured the National Football League title and then went on to win the Super Bowl by defeating American League champion Kansas City, will have the same defense which stifled the collegians last year.

Attempting to crack the Packers' defenses will be either Steve Spurrier of Florida or Bob Griese of Purdue, two of the finest passers in the collegiate ranks last season.

Coach Johnny Sauer will wait to the last minute to decide on which of the two will start. Once he has made his choice, Sauer insists he will play the hot hand.

If neither is able to make the talented Stars go, Sauer might shift to Houston's Bo Burris who has been working out as a defensive back.

The All-Stars are loaded with talented receivers including the likes of Jack Clancy of Michigan, flanker Rod Sherman of Southern California, Gene Washington of Michigan State and Dave Williams of Washington who caught a couple of bombs in last week's 23-22 scrimmage loss to the Chicago Bears.

Running backs include Mel Farr of UCLA, Nick Eddy of Notre Dame, Clint Jones of Michigan State, Floyd Little of Syracuse and Ray McDonald of Idaho.

However, the All-Stars are most impressive on defense headed by gigantic Bubba Smith of Michigan State.

The 290-pound Smith will get able assistance from Dave Rowe of Penn State, Alan Page of Notre Dame, Leo Carroll of San Diego State and Pete Duranko of Notre Dame.

Their objective will be to get Starr before the complex Green Bay pass patterns begin to unfold.

The men up front will be backed by some of the finest linebackers ever to grace an All-Star roster. There's George Webster of Michigan State, Jim Lynch of Notre Dame and Paul Naumoff of Tennessee.

The defensive secondary will include Phil Clark of Northwestern, Bob Grim of Oregon State, Rich Volk of Michigan and Henry King of Utah State.

The pros lead the series 22-9 and the Packers last year swamped the Stars 38-0 to avenge a 20-17 loss in 1963, the last time the All-Stars tasted victory in the series.

Thinks Any of 4 Would Be Capable

HOUSTON (AP)—Ernie Terrell, one of the four heavyweight fighters participating in Saturday's Astrodome boxing doubleheader, says any of the contestants would make an excellent champion.

Terrell fights Thad Spencer in one of the 12-round nationally televised bouts, Leotis Martin meets Jimmy Ellis in the other. The doubleheader kicks off an eight-man elimination tournament to select a World Boxing Association heavyweight king to succeed Cassius Clay.

The WBA stripped Clay of his title when he refused to be inducted into the Armed Services. He was sentenced to five years in prison and is presently free under bond while appealing.

The other quarter-final matches are scheduled later this year, with Karl Mildenberger meeting Oscar Bonavena in Frankfurt, Germany and Floyd Patterson meeting Jerry Quarry in Los Angeles.

"The eight-man tournament is a fair way to decide the champion," said Terrell, former WBA champion, "it should have the blessing of everyone."

Hope Beaten; Corning, Little Rock Play for State Title Tonight

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports writer

After being built up and actually nearly fared to win by this writer, the Hope All-Stars tasted bitter defeat, losing 14-2 to Little Rock in the state Little League championships last night at K Park. Little Rock will meet Corning tonight in the final.

After the locals went down one-two-three, in the top of the first, there was only a mild stir from the crowd. "After all," they said, "the teams have to get used to the opposing pitcher, don't they?" Not so. Little Rock proved that in the bottom of the first when they racked David Huddleston for 4 quick runs.

Local fans still weren't overly worried at the time, because they were certain their team could pull through. But when Hope failed to score while Little Rock ran up 2 in the second, one in the third, and six big runs in the fourth inning, then the local backers sounded desperate. But by then the damage was done.

Two runs for Hope in the fifth stanza broke the string of goose eggs, but that was all. Scoring still another run in the fifth, Little Rock held a fairly comfortable 14-2 margin as Hope stepped up for the last time in the sixth. Little Rock's Eddie Peters fanned three local batters.

Winning pitcher Peters scored 3 runs on two hits to help his own cause, and Mike Pinegar led all Hope batters with a single and a double in three at-bats.

Then it was small town Corning's turn to step in the limelight. Corning promptly proceeded to turn back a tough Pine Bluff team by the score of 6-3. And the win was surely no fluke.

With back-to-back homers in the top of the first by John Sander, a three-run blast, and Allen Young, with a solo shot, Corning jumped to a 4-0 margin before Pine Bluff could get settled down to the business being transacted. Pine Bluff retaliated with a run in the second, but Corning came back with runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

Then it was comeback time for Pine Bluff. To lead off the bottom of the fifth, they started innocently enough; first of all pulling a Corning, with Tracy Howard and Prentice Wallace each socking almost identical solo homers into left field. But after those Pine Bluff just wasn't willed another run. Then, of course, neither was Corning.

Chip Goodwin, winning pitcher for Corning, fired five innings of near perfect baseball, before being relieved after the homers in the fifth. Tracy Howard, who relieved loser Mike Tracy for Pine Bluff, scattered two runs on six hits with five strikeouts in six innings.

Tonight Hope will face Pine Bluff in the opening game at 5:30 p.m. for the consolation championship, and Little Rock will do battle with Corning for the state title at 7:30 p.m. If you are unable to attend, KXAR will broadcast both games live, beginning at 5:15 p.m.

Verwey, brother-in-law of Gary Player and runner-up in last week's Minnesota Classic, credited a new putting grip in a 27-putt performance.

Stanton, whose best finish on the PGA tour so far has been a tie for seventh in the Flint Open, said "I just putted well and was rewarded." He required 28 taps on the greens.

Harris, the 1962 National Amateur champion who never has been better than a fifth-place finish on the tour, set a PGA putting record for this year. He had nine successive one-putt greens and totalled 25 putts for the distance.

Steve Oppermann, like Stanton, seeking his first tourney victory, came in with a 67 while veterans Julius Boros and Don January had 68s.

The eight 69-shooters included amateur Marty Fleckman who led the first and third rounds of the recent National Open before folding with a final 80.

Defending champion Billy Casper slipped to 74. National Open winner Jack Nicklaus bogeyed the last three holes for a 72. Arnie Palmer lost a ball in a giant oak tree on the 18th fairway to finish with a double bogey seven for a 72.

Boston Gets Howard From the Yankees

By DAVE O'HARA
BOSTON (AP)—Nearly a half century ago the Boston Red Sox pulled one of baseball's biggest boners—peddling George Herman "Babe" Ruth to the New York Yankees.

Ruth, employed mainly as a pitcher with the Red Sox, became a full-time outfielder with New York and went on to become the greatest home run slugger in history.

The Red Sox never could forget the infamous deal. Even after Tom Yawkey bought the club in 1933, the Boston front office feared trades with the Yankees.

However, time and changing personnel have mellowed feelings.

Back in 1952, when virtually eliminated from the American League pennant fight, the Red Sox sent right-hander pitcher Ray Scarborough, then 35, on waivers to the Yankees.

Although past his prime, Scarborough turned in several fine performances and helped New York win the pennant.

A young catcher, Elston Howard, came along three years later and helped the Yankees to a flock of championships. Now the Red Sox hope the Yankees have reciprocated by dealing them Howard during Boston's pennant drive.

The Yankees, buried deep in the second division while on a rebuilding kick, sent Howard, now 38, to the Red Sox Thursday for the $20,000 waiver price and two players to be named after the season.

Howard, who is drawing an estimated $50,000 salary, has seen limited action this season, hitting only .197.

Howard enjoyed his best season in 1961, hitting .348 with 21 homers in 129 games.

Stanton Has Share of West Open Lead

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Stanton was on the practice tee until nightfall sharpening up for Friday's second round of the $102,000 Western Open.

The lanky, 21-year-old Sydney, Australia, pro is in the heat of a par-shattering battle to hold on to his share of the lead in a chase for a $20,000 first prize.

He and Bob Verwey, 26, of Johannesburg, South Africa and Labron Harris, 25, son of Oklahoma State's golf coach, headed the first round Thursday on Beverly Country Club's par 71 battleground with 66s.

Verwey, brother-in-law of Gary Player and runner-up in last week's Minnesota Classic, pulled ahead early and had a 1½-length edge at the finish. They were timed in 6:18 for the 2,000-meter course.

Harvard automatically goes into Saturday's final as the favorite but almost surely will face another showdown with the Canadians, who like other losing crews get a second chance today in the repechage heats.

The U.S. baseball team, twice beaten by Cuba, came back to smash the Cubans 8-3 in the opening game of the best-of-three final playoff series. Southpaw John Curtis of Smithtown, N.Y., limited the Cubans to four hits through eight innings.

The towering U.S. basketball team smashed Panama 90-44 in its unhindered march toward a gold medal.

The United States won a bronze medal in field hockey, beating Canada 1-0, drove toward a silver medal with a 43-42 victory over Canada in women's basketball and continued to advance in boxing, judo and fencing.

Gold Medal Harvest Continues

By WILL GRIMSLEY
WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) — Hurdlers Willie Davenport and Earl McCulloch renew their intense rivalry in the 110-meter hurdles as U.S. track and field forces attempt to add to Uncle Sam's harvest of medals today in the fast closing Pan-American Games.

The race, which will take little longer than it does a pedestrian to cross a street, headlines the next-to-last day program at the University of Manitoba. The card includes the appearance of world record-holder Ralph Boston of Nashville, Tenn., in the long jump; the women's high jump finals, in which Eleanor Montgomery of Cleveland is defending champion; the men's hammer throw and the men's 55-kilometer walk.

Davenport, from Warren, Ohio, and Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., had beaten McCulloch seven straight times before the Southern California football flanker won the Pan-Am trials in the world record-setting time of 13.2 seconds. Davenport has been itching to redeem that last defeat.

With the track and field forces idle Thursday, attention turned to the opening of the rowing competition on the Red River floodway where Harvard's mighty heavyweight eight, unbeaten in three years, turned back the undefeated Canadian crew from the University of British Columbia in a qualifying heat.

Stroked by Ian Gardiner of Topshill, Mass., the Harvard pulled ahead early and had a 1½-length edge at the finish. They were timed in 6:18 for the 2,000-meter course.

Rally Leaves Bosox Two Games Out

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The shotgun Carl Yastrzemski calls an arm has claimed another victim and that makes five base runners in 10 days who've learned the hard way that the Boston slugger can field and throw as well as he can hit.

Yaz threw out Mike Hersherberger trying to score in the sixth inning Thursday and then the Red Sox rallied for three runs in their half and a 5-3 victory over Kansas City. That cut one-half game off Chicago's American League lead and left the Red Sox two games behind.

Dave Morehead hurled five shutout innings to pick up the victory.

Hersherberger, who had doubled with two out, tried to score on Dick Green's hit but Yastrzemski nailed him. It was the ninth assist this season for Yaz and his fifth in Boston's 12-game home stand which ended Thursday.

"I'd rather not have the opportunity to make them," Yastrzemski said. "It only means there are runners on base, trying to score."

In the only other American League game Thursday, Detroit blanked Baltimore 5-0 on Denny McLain's three-hitter. In the only National League game played, Atlanta bombed Chicago with seven homers and ripped the Cubs 10-3.

Yastrzemski, who leads the league in runs batted in with 78, upped his batting average to .321—third best in the league—with two hits. He doubled in the third and came in on George Scott's single as Boston pecked away at Kansas City's early 3-0 lead.

Mike Andrews was the Red Sox' other hero. He drove in three runs with a homer and a two-run single.

Third-place Detroit also picked up a half game on the White Sox by whipping Baltimore in a game called by rain in the eighth inning. The Tigers are three games behind.

McLain was in control all the way, nothing his 13th victory. Joe Torre and Clete Boyer led Atlanta's homer spree against the Cubs with two apiece. Hank Aaron, Tito Francona and Denis Menke also connected.

Torre also doubled, singled and walked for a perfect day, scoring three runs and driving in two.

The loss dropped the slumping Cubs six full games back of first-place St. Louis in the National League race.

Pitt., 12-4, .750.
Strikeouts — Marichal, S.F., 162; Bunning Phil., 157.

A STEP AHEAD or behind usually tells the sports success story, as it did for track star Lee Evans, left, and baseballer Leon Wagner. Evans blazed to a 400-meter world record in winning a Pan-American Games gold medal for the United States. Leon, however, was caught short trying to score a run for the Indians.

TO EASE THE BURDEN of transporting airline passengers from suburban and center city areas to airports, a new concept in ticketing and transportation is under development by a Philadelphia firm. The Budd Company plan calls for ticketing directly from points of departure to the airport, followed by shuttling of passengers directly to their gate at the airport in high-speed trains. The system would eliminate the usual changing of trains, handling of baggage, and congestion of traffic when public transportation is ridden to the airport, and cut down on congestion of other traffic.

DOG OF THE YEAR, according to an annual contest sponsored by a dog food company, is a 180-lb. St. Bernard named Mijo, from Anchorage, Alaska. Mijo swam to the aid of her 13-year-old mistress, shown here. When a mud slide plunged the girl into chin-deep water, her feet stuck in the mire. As Mijo reached her the girl seized the dog's collar and the dog pulled her free of the mud and towed her to a nearby bank. For her heroism, Mijo's awards include the Ken-L Ration gold medal, a gold-plated leash, a $1,000 U.S. Savings bond, a year's supply of dog food, and a dinner in her honor in Chicago.

TO EASE THE BURDEN of transporting airline passengers from suburban and center city areas to airports, a new concept in ticketing and transportation is under development by a Philadelphia firm. The Budd Company plan calls for ticketing directly from points of departure to the airport, followed by shuttling of passengers directly to their gate at the airport in high-speed trains. The system would eliminate the usual changing of trains, handling of baggage, and congestion of traffic when public transportation is ridden to the airport, and cut down on congestion of other traffic.

DOG OF THE YEAR, according to an annual contest sponsored by a dog food company, is a 180-lb. St. Bernard named Mijo, from Anchorage, Alaska. Mijo swam to the aid of her 13-year-old mistress, shown here. When a mud slide plunged the girl into chin-deep water, her feet stuck in the mire. As Mijo reached her the girl seized the dog's collar and the dog pulled her free of the mud and towed her to a nearby bank. For her heroism, Mijo's awards include the Ken-L Ration gold medal, a gold-plated leash, a $1,000 U.S. Savings bond, a year's supply of dog food, and a dinner in her honor in Chicago.

Had No Vowels
The earliest written alphabets did not contain vowels. When the Greeks borrowed the Phoenician letter symbols, they used the characters they did not need for consonant sounds to represent the vowels, thus completing the alphabet.

FRUIT TOPPING

Is pert Elsa Miranda's taste in chapeaux and it's more than a fashion whim. Hers is the bouncy Latin voice of the Chiquita Banana jingle. In line of duty, she sports a collection of banana hats on personal appearances: top, a cluster of velvet bananas on a Breton of moss green straw braid; center, a velvet banana on brilliant peacock blue silk linen, and bottom, banana petals of yellow silk organza. Business, maybe, but also tasty fashion.

There is one outstanding time to finesse. That is when you are in a slam contract and you are sure to make it, provided you take the finesse. Never mind about the fact that it is not likely to be necessary and may well cost you an overtrick. To paraphrase Shakespeare, "The slam's the thing."

When North showed an ace and a king South was tempted to go to a grand slam but he put temptation firmly behind him and settled for six. North didn't need seven sure club tricks for his vulnerable three-club bid.

He won the heart opening and counted up. He had six tricks in the three top suits. Six club tricks would give him his slam. The only thing for him to worry about would be a bad club break.

He led the three of clubs. West played the eight and for a moment South was going to play the jack from dummy. That would guard against any and all 2-2 and 3-1 club breaks. It would also produce a grand slam against all such breaks when West held the queen.

He thought for a moment. Then he thought for a second moment and realized that he wasn't interested at all in making an overtrick but he wanted to make his slam.

Four clubs held by East would have beaten him but West had played one club, so East couldn't have four clubs.

That left the possibility that West had started with four clubs. West played the eight: would he play the eight from queen-ten-eight-deuce? Not likely but decidedly possible. South counted up once more, reached over to dummy, pulled out the nine and made sure of his contract. He also made his overtrick when East showed out.

William Faulkner Speaks Out on Racial Question

The newspapers this week published a letter that the late William Faulkner, Mississippi novelist and Nobel prize winner, wrote to his former Negro butler.

The butler, Paul E. Pollard, now living in Massachusetts, had worked for Faulkner in 1956 and 1957, and wrote the novelist for a contribution to a civil rights organization supposed to have been the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Although a world-famous liberal, Faulkner refused to contribute, and told his old employer why. Equality, wrote Faulkner, could never be imposed by force. Negroes, he said, "could only achieve full equality in American society through personal conduct and achievement."

Faulkner's letter was dated Feb. 24, 1960 (two years before his death) at Charlottesville, Va., where he was lecturing at the University of Virginia. The butler, Paul E. Pollard, saved the letter, but later sold it for $500 to Charles Hamilton Autographs, Inc., of New York — which firm made it public through the New York Times News Service this week.

Faulkner's observation of the racial conflict coincides with a still older observation on the difference between the white attitude toward the Negro in the North and that in the South. The North treats the Negro as a race, but the South views the Negro as an individual. It is simply the difference between a generality and a fact.

As one Northern-born, your editor can't help but note the paradox in the Northern position. Northern whites don't treat other whites as a race—they judge them as individuals. But they abandon this formula, as to Negroes, and treat them as a generality.

Or did so until Detroit's civil war reminded them of the truth of the words of William Faulkner, Southerner of liberal leaning and kindly intent.

Says Reaction of White Race Taught

By BILL RAWLINS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Negro official's exclusion of whites from a summer antipoverty project which Senate investigators were told teaches "hate of the white race" may result in loss of federal and local funds, the local director says.

"At the very least, there will be an investigation," said the Rev. J. Paschal Davis, white Episcopal minister who heads Nashville's Metropolitan Action Commission, the local agency through which the Office of Economic Opportunity channels federal antipoverty funds.

Davis reacted to the Senate testimony and to the response of Fred Brooks, the project director and chairman of Nashville's Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

"We teach the historical fact that whites came to Africa and viciously enslaved many of the great African people," said Brooks, 20. "If the history of their Negroes' past leads them to hate white people, that's not our responsibility."

Asked if a white man could sit in on the classes, Brooks said, "No, I'm sure the staff would object." Negroes, he said, need "some places where they can come without a white man being present."

Large pictures of the late Malcolm X, leader of the Black Muslim movement, and SNCC leaders Stokely Carmichael, George Ware and H. Rap Brown were in the room where the so-called "liberation school" is conducted by Brooks in St. Ann's Episcopal Chapel, a center for Negro students in North Nashville.

Capt. John Sprace, of Nashville's metropolitan police department told the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday that the OEO was subsidizing Brooks' project and that it taught Negroes to hate the white man. He declined to give the source of his information.

Violations Charged to Insurance Co.

By ED SHEARER

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Insurance Department today issued a report charging one of the state's largest insurance companies, National Investors Life Insurance Co. of Little Rock, with violations of state insurance laws.

The department ordered that the violations be stopped over a five-year period.

Insurance Commissioner John Norman Harkey issued a brief statement saying the order had been rendered and that the department would have no comment.

The firm was charged under state law with ineligible investments for an insurance company and ordered to submit plans for disposing of them.

Harkey ordered the company to submit a plan for disposing of the stock owned in the Jess O'Brien Development Corp. by Sept. 15 and that the disposition be completed by June 1, 1968.

The report of the examiner charged that the company had purchased all the stock in the corporation, known as the Mummelle Ordinance Works.

Harkey ordered that no further expenditures on obligations or contracts be made after today on the 5,300-acre tract known as Mummelle Ordinance Works near North Little Rock.

He said the company should dispose of it so as to restore would hamper business growth and thus generate little new revenue.

And Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee said only: "I'm uncommitted; committed to no one, one way or the other."

Mills, who ranks as perhaps the foremost tax expert in Congress, has remained noncommittal since Johnson first proposed a surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes last January. At that time Johnson urged a 6 per cent surtax.

But the Arkansas Democrat revised the Ways and Means Committee's schedule to provide at least two weeks of hearings beginning Aug. 14. The hearings will be interrupted Aug. 17 and 18 when the House is scheduled to consider Johnson's bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes.

Almost to a man, members who discussed the proposals Johnson sent to Congress Thursday agreed that if a tax hike is enacted at all, it won't be by Oct. 1—the date the President asked the surcharge on individual income taxes to start.

And veteran members of the Ways and Means Committee said it never has been willing to make retroactive a tax increase on individuals. Johnson asked the matching 10 per cent increase on corporate income taxes be made retroactive to July 1.

A later date for both seemed likely, if there are to be increases, perhaps Oct. 1 for the corporate tax, the first of next year for the individual.

Johnson's linking of the tax boost request with Vietnam costs and plans to dispatch 45,000 more troops there did not sit well with some members.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said, "The President's message is a confession of failure of his so-called 'guns and butter' economic policy."

Noting Johnson's warning that the budget deficit for the current year could reach $29 billion

3-Day Law Enforcement Course Here

About 35 Southwest Arkansas law enforcement supervisors and lower court officials have indicated they will attend a three-day law course at the Diamond Cafe, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The course is sponsored by the Arkansas Law Enforcement Training Academy in cooperation with the Office of Law Enforcement Assistance, U.S. Department of Justice.

Instructors will include staff members of Arkansas Attorney General Joe Purcell, Lt. L. R. Haynes, legal officer, Little Rock Police Department; Russell J. Woods, lawyer, Arkansas Game and Fish Commission; Little Rock; H. P. Hargis, former superintendent of the Arkansas Boys Industrial School at Pine Bluff and now a specialist in adult education, State Department of Education; and James W. Callman, professor of law, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville.

Topics will include Constitutional Rights of the Accused, Civil Liability of Law Enforcement Officers, Arrests, Evidence, the Philosophical Roots of Criminal Justice, the Substantive Law of Crimes and Search and Seizures.

Clovis Copeland, Little Rock, special projects director, said the course was designed by the University of Arkansas Law School and intended to keep officials of the criminal justice system abreast of the recent decisions of the appellate courts which affect police procedures and the administration of justice.

He said the Liability discussions were especially timely because of recent riots and crowd control problems being experienced in other sections of the country.

Handling of mass arrests and trials will be discussed, Copeland said.

197 Aerial Raids, War's Largest

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes hammered North Vietnam with 197 strike missions Thursday, 22 more than were ever flown in a single day during the 2½ years of bombing the Communist North, the U.S. Command said today.

U. S. headquarters also announced that 635 combat planes have been lost over North Vietnam, including an Air Force F105 Thunderchief downed by ground fire Thursday and three losses not previously disclosed.

The ground war continued in one of its periodic lulls and two major operations ended.

One was the massive sweep by an estimated 10,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops in the Mekong Delta 45 miles south of Saigon, the biggest allied operation staged so far in the delta.

In the same delta area, South Vietnamese troops reported killing the commander of a hard-core Viet Cong battalion and capturing his assistant.

The air attacks Thursday ranged from deep in North Vietnam's heartland to the country's southern panhandle.

Navy pilots reported destroying or damaging 72 supply boats or barges along the coast. Other Navy fliers reported setting off a secondary explosion among a cluster of buildings at the Quang Nap storage area three miles southwest of Thanh Hoa, in the panhandle. The pilots said dense smoke towered up 5,000 feet.

Navy pilots also reported damaging railroad facilities at the Dong Khe railroad siding 28 miles northwest of Vinh and the Ly Nhan siding 27 miles northeast of Thanh Hoa.

Pilots from the carrier Oriskany pounded a warehouse eight miles northwest of Hanoi, but heavy smoke prevented assessment of damage.

Air Force pilots attacked a 100-foot concrete and steel bridge 14 miles northeast of the port city and "the bridge completely disappeared," said Lt. Col. Harry W. Schurr, 39, of Indiana, Pa., one of the fliers.

Other Air Force pilots reported damaging one end of the Bac Giang railroad and highway bridge 27 miles northeast of Hanoi and damaging four anti-aircraft sites in the area. And airmen who attacked a railroad yard 39 miles northeast of the Communist capital said white smoke engulfed the area.

The U.S. Command said 87 missions were flown by the Air Force, 74 by the Navy and 36 by the Marines.

This broke a record that had stood for nearly 10 months—175 missions last Oct. 14.

Episcopal Men Going to Retreat

The Saint Mark's Episcopal Church Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will leave Friday to attend the annual retreat conducted by the Arkansas Assembly at the Episcopal Camp and Conference Center on Mount Petit Jean.

The Retreat will be led by Reber Clark, a communicant of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Little Rock. Father Hancock, Chaplain to the Arkansas Assembly of the Brotherhood, will celebrate the Holy Eucharist for the group, and will be available for personal counseling and the Sacrament of Penance.

Other local men accompanying Father Hancock to the Retreat are Jerry Winer, John Henderson, Ron Endsley, and Jerry Johnson.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An $8,000 appropriation from the governor's contingency fund will be used by the Educational Television Commission to purchase an electronic splicing kit, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller announced Friday.

Experts Are Nursing a Hunch That Break Is Near in Vietnam War

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

Some experts on Southeast Asia are nursing a hunch that a break in the Vietnam war is coming and that some sort of preliminary settlement may result.

Part of this thinking is based upon events in Red China and the impact these events have had on China's neighbors. Part is based on evidence of Soviet interest in helping to bring about an end to the clash between American and Communist arms.

Frank N. Trager, professor of international affairs at New York University, says he feels a break in the war is in prospect.

"In my view, the clash of regular armies could end in Vietnam during this calendar year. I expect some sort of settlement in 1967 or early 1968," he writes in the American Legion magazine.

Trager, just back from Vietnam and other points in Southeast Asia, adds that this would not mean an end to conflict. He says there could be a settlement of sorts with the basic U.S. goal, independence for South Vietnam, achieved, but that "we will clearly have to stay in Southeast Asia in some form—both military and civilian—for a good long time."

The U.S. civilian commitment to South Vietnam is a long-range one to build the economy of the country and secure its future as much as possible. The military situation, Trager feels, would be a complex one. It would involve pacification of the Viet Cong guerrillas, which could take years after the fighting between regular armies ended.

Other Southeast Asia specialists assert the U.S. stand in South Vietnam has strengthened the will of other nations in the area to resist Communist incursions. Today, Red China is exerting formidable pressure on virtually all her neighbors to the south: India, Burma, Thailand, Indonesia and others. Peking has picked quarrels with all of them, and eventually may have succeeded in pushing them together in self-defense.

China's policy, probably dictated by its internal problems attendant upon the purge called "the cultural revolution," has had a boomerang effect. Nations which wanted to stay neutral, such as Burma, have been frightened by the blatant hostility coming from Peking and deliberate attempts to interfere in internal affairs. China's attitude, indeed, can strengthen the unity of other Asians in such enterprises as the Association of Southeast Asian.

These nations are interested in some sort of Asian solution to Vietnam, possibly within the framework of the 1954 Geneva accord but arrived at this time on Asian soil.

William Glascock, 33rd degree Mason and Secretary of the Arkansas Consistory, installed new officers in the Scottish Rite Association Thursday, August 3 following a dinner meeting in the Masonic Hall, served by members of the Eastern Star.

During the coming year W. A. Mudgett will serve as president, R. M. Jones will be vice-president, and Harry Shiver will be secretary of the group.

The Scottish Rite organization is a big business, the guest speaker said in an after-dinner message. He explained the workings, the history, and the significance of the Supreme Council. He gave recognition to local Masons Harry Shiver, Ted Maryman, and Roy Anderson for their work.

Mr. Glascock answered the question, "What is Freemasonry, its purpose and value?" According to him, "It is not a secret organization, but an organization of secrets. Further, it is a beautiful system of morality veiled in allegory and illustrated by symbols."

Besides the guest speaker and Mrs. Glascock of Little Rock, other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Musgrave of Nashville.
